A THE THE PROPERTY OF THE PROP

DEDICATION

IN ORDER THAT WE MIGHT OBTAIN OUR EDUCATION, OUR MOTHERS AND FATHERS HAVE MADE A MOST WILLING SACRIFICE. TO THEM, THEREFORE, WE AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATE THIS ATHENIAN OF 1924.

A Tribute to C. H. S.

O dear and true old Gold and Blue What happy days we've spent with you! Thou'st been to us a worthy friend We're sorry that these days must end. To you we owe our honored name; To you we owe our little fame. Like a beacon light thou hast led us on, As we followed the trail toward a brighter dawn. At times as we climbed, we grew faint with fear But thou, faithful friend, ne'er forgot to cheer And urge us along toward Ambition's height Where surveying vantage to our delight, We beheld our efforts of four short years Enscrolled and emblazoned on wisdom's spears. And now as the class of Twenty-four Passes out C. H. S.'s door, We know that all we hope to be We owe to thee! We owe to thee!

-Minnie E. Williams.

MI THEM AND THE MAN TO THE WAR TO THE TENTE OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

Foreword

The Athenian, dear readers, once more comes to you with your schools' life upon its pages. These pages are but a true reflection of what the year 1923-1924 has meant to those who have striven so bravely and so loyally within the great and happy work-shop of old C. H. S. The web, which these diligent workers have woven is flecked with joy and sorrow; joy because of achievement; sorrow because of leave-taking. Our short comings as well as our victories are all found in the web and woof of this twentieth volume. Memories of our happy Senior year crowd upon us as we turn through these intimate pages-teeming and pulsating with the red-blood of high school life. Therefore, in the language of the clever Touchstone we would say-"A poor thing but all mine · own."

As friend to friend, dear reader, the Senior class of 1924 sends this edition of the Athenian into thy tender and worthy keeping.

The Class of Nineteen Twenty-four

We were young and inexperienced, About four years ago, When we entered the halls of C. H. S. My! but the time seemed slow.

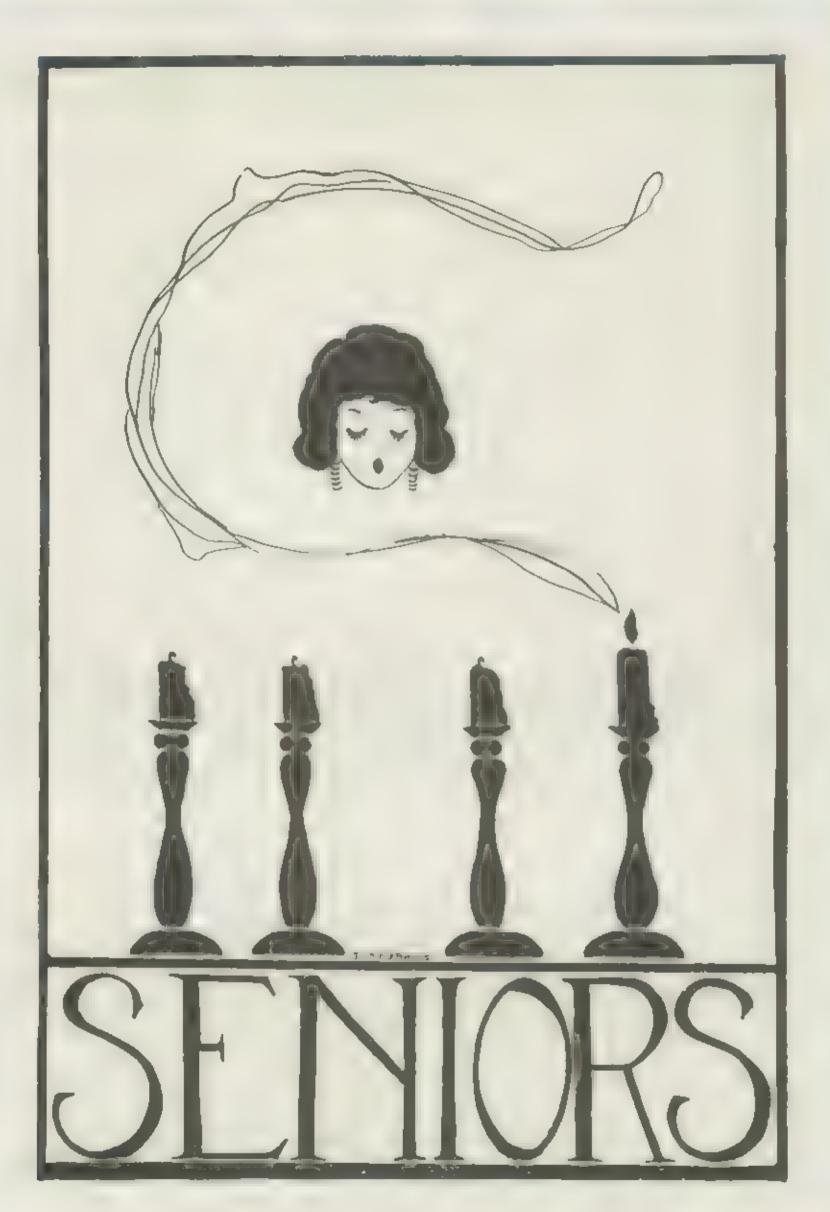

Strangely now, so fast it seems, These same four years have sped; Is it because we had our lessons, And did as the teachers said?

The building now is firm and strong, As 'twas when first we came, We haven't jarred it from its place—The site is just the same.

Alas! now when we go forth To take our place in life, We cannot all be Presidents, Nor yet a President's wife,

But we can better fit our station And our destiny fulfill, By having spent four happy years In school in Crawfordsville,

EMILY KENNEDY.

History

Just four short years ago there entered into the spacious halls of Crawfordsville High School, a timid, but alert Freshman class. They entered with pride and resolved to live up to our motto, "Enter to learn, go forth to serve."

The first big event of our class was a Box-supper held in the spring of 1920. It was a strictly business affair as all the girls brought well-filled boxes and the boys chanced their luck on buying the box belonging to their——. Well, we did have a splendid feed and a roaring good time. We cleared $15.30 which was the first amount to be placed into the treasury of the best graduating class, of C. H. S.——1924.

When we all met again, as a class, for a jolification was in '21; we had a "big time" roasting weiners at Martin's dam. We were having the best time playing games when something "up there" used the big sprinkling can and our Packards (?) brought us back to town in a very little while.

We just had to show the others we were an alive and eager class to do things, so we had a Halloween Party. Everyone came masked and we all "Guessed Who."

"Of course now that we were Sophomores"—thats just how we felt in 1922! The Eikenberry's and Mr. Twineham, along with our dear "Uncle Johnv" Ward were our advisers but you'd never have known it when we all got together at Wright's Farm for the weiners and buns. It was a muddy day and we almost lost "Eddic" Moore in a rut in the road. Some of our energetic classmates had built a fire and did we have fun? I should say so. Of course we had marshmallows!

1923, being our last year before we were "it" in C. H. S. was of course a better year than the one preceding.

We had a party in the Auditorium early in the year that was a big success. We were entertained by a Vaudeville and then everyone rushed to get the bountiful food, supplied by the committee.

Our Junior-Senior Reception was a crowning laurel of our achievements on the upward path. "Her Gloves," a clever three act play was given, after the reception committee had met every one graciously. The remaining part of the evening was spent in eating and dancing. The Temple was beautifully decorated in our class colors and large palms. When the evening was over, we realized we had "catered" for the last time to our upper classmen—they were no more, and we were "it."

Durham's farm was an ideal place to hold our first Senior Weiner-roast. We met at the school building and were taken out in ears, trucks and "otherwise." Plenty of food and fun were had by all.

The Senior Kid party was a big success. It reminded us of "Do you remember way back when?" We were all "Kids" and once more we pleyed kid games. Stunts and "take offs" were the main entertainments. No old people there, everyhody was young again.

Jo Stubbuts, Historian.

Prophecy

It was growing rather late and I still had before me an enormous amount of work; notebooks neglected for an entire semester and due without fail on the morrow; charts long overdue and then that prophecy—that prophecy that haunted my dreams—would I never find an idea for it? Several old year books had failed to give a plan good enough for our Athenian, and now with them piled in front of me, Poe's "Raven" came to my mind

"Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered weak and weary,

Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten love."

While I nodded, nearly napping -

Whos, there, I did almost fall asteep. I should welcome a raven or any bird or beast if they possessed the gift of prophecy and would say something more than "Forevermore" I think I shall lay my head down on my arms and rest for just a minute.

My head scarcely touched my arms before there came a sure enough rapping at my door. Inwardly condemning anyone who had the nerve to come thumping around and disturbing people trying to study, I called out for my unwelcome visitor to enter

They advanced into the room. First, there was a tall stately old man dressed in the style of fifty years ago. He was followed by a gaunt, slender youth attired in a fashion equally strange. The old man doffed his ancient beaver top hat, bowed with courtly grace and said.

"I hope you will pardon us for intruding in this manner but I suspect you will be more than pleased with our visit before the evening is gone. I am the Past, very much at your service. Allow me, also, to present my young friend, the Future"

The youth removed his hat, bowed and responded, "At your service, also, sir."
With a violent start, I came out of my open-mouthed trance, acknowledged these them into destrict and the start of the service and the service acknowledged these guests to make known their business.

"Unless I am mistaken, you are engaged in writing a prophecy for your class year in a sould the old man (in it) is a finite factor of the first in t

1-I'm awfully obliged", I finally stammered

Then we shall get to business at once," stated Future, "I shall speak in the present to bus well in the present seventh, nineteen hundred forty-four. I shall make these revelations rapidly as we must leave at one o'clock. Now to begin:

"Harry Bowe, much to the surprise of everyone, has proved himself an able financier in Granger Twist.

"The Coffel Twins, I speak of them collectively, are 'staring' in the 'Irish Twins', in the 'Irish Twins', how twin and Madge makes a charming little 'Colleen'.

"Bernard Suverkrup is one of the most renowned lawyers of the day. He has one in most of the day. He has one in the most of the day and age and denounced Mr. Suverkrup's methods,

"Kenneth Warbritton's ambition to be an actor is gratifled. His name is in this carried him to tame in a single night.

"Tom Mathews has developed into the fastest dash swimmer in the country. He is manager, captain and chief performer on our Olympic Swimming Team,

"Oscar Cornett is riding master of the Equestrian Academy at Crawfordsville. Riding seems to be very popular since he secured the aid of Betty McClamrock and Leonice Shanklin, two former riding beauties."

My guest looked at the clock and then at his watch

"Mercy it's almost one o'clock," he cried "quick, our coats! wake up Past."

He shook the old man by the should r until he awoke, stammering and blinking. Future seized the wraps,

"I'd like to finish and tell you the rest if only I had sufficient time," he assured me as he struggled into his coat.

I turned from helping Past into his cont to ask. "But what will I - ?"

Bong! the clock on the mantle proclaimed the hour.

As the clock struck, both of my guests disappeared into thin air leaving my question unmasked and therefore unanswered

I awoke with one arm outstretched as if to detain some one and the echoes of the gong were ringing in my ears

"Gosh, it can't be one o'clock", I thought. That was surely the last stroke of twelve Just then the college clock began its rather tardy ringing, one, t —. Only one. Goe, I must have slept an awful while and such a dream. Well, there's my prophecy but, oh mercy, those notebooks.

WINNING A NAME

Leo Van Levan was the son of the famous Dr. Van Levan, whose fame was very widely known. Leo, or "Zip", as he was indied by his friends, had known no other if their treat of leasure, and popularity. Wherever le went grouple pointed him out as Dr. Van Levan's son. Whenever a party was given, it was not a success unless Zip were present. Naturally a terlow in Zip's social position, was the cuty of all other less fortunate young men, and the idol of the young women.

To some voting men this life would be ideal, but to Zip it was a bore. He hated parties, receptions and constant associations with people, who are aided han with eyes filled with admir, toolood to so much them as much is becomed, for this reason

The I ked nothing better than to be alone. During these times of seclusion, he spend many thought to moments, moments in which I compared his own lite with that of less fortunate fellows. Soon he would leave for college. It would be the same everyone would cryy him because he was I so Van Levan, the society idol, not because of his own person thry. At times when he thought of this he wondered why he couldn't issume another name and make people like him for what he was. He would do it. No one need ever know that he had changed his name not even his tither. While it college he could no to the postethie to get his nail; it was no one's business but his own.

It came time for him to leave. He boarded the train with somewhat an air of relief. At list, he wish criving it all behind and an his mind be pictured himself with "regular fellows" that the dignitized kind of las acquaintances.) The kind that would play ball go swimming doing only the things that read follows cited to do. Thus he dreamed all the way to his destination. Not Leo Van Levan left the train but a cheerful lacking fellow by the name of Theodore Thorton, to be better, known, as "Ted."

College was one flir fl after another for Ted. The fellows all liked him. He was what they called a "good sport". Although he seemed new in taking part in their sports he always seemed cager to learn. No one ever suspected him of being Van Levan. Out of school hours he head a position in a drug store working at the soda tountain. Dany he went to the postoffice for his mad. Indeed, all this was new to him but he liked it.

Everything went along smoothly. Ted went out for all sports and represented his college were in fact all the fellows said he was "right there" when it came to athletics.

One event a limit of fellows are into Ted's room. They had received hoves from none and they were room to have a real feast. The party was in promess when "Red" Rollins discovered a white envelope lying on the floor.

"Ah, I say, old top," he said, reading the name aloud, "Who stole ze idol's male. Why fed you have destroom stoom by help to have a last letter are your room.

Ted had become noticeably nervous and with a queer little laugh, he tried to explain how he had found the letter. The fellows looked at him in awe. He did look like the pictures of Van Levan that they had seen, yet it couldn't be he! If it were, why had be chanced by a property of them and and the party went on.

Football came in season. Ted went in for it and made the squad. Hard practice and patience made him a persistent player. At last came the great event, the annual grad of the great rivels Borkley Ted's chare and Contordia a rear borane college. The very telore, the other office had won and the year the Borkley fellows were frantic to reinstate themselves.

The normal of the events if day a telegrant, and from Ted's father saving he would arrive a few hours before the game.

Sport critics had predicted that the game would be the "battle royal" of the season. Soon they we get a know that their prophery had not been the wrong. That historic old gride on was seen to feel the terre less of when it strate his hero met hero, and new heroes arose.

Just as the college clock was chiming two o'clock, the Gold and Blue fighters trotted onto the field. Ted wearing the unlucky "13" jersey. The resulting took the field and the substitutes sought their benches.

Ted felt a tap on his shoulder as he sat down. Turning, he saw the smiling face of his lather.

"If you get into the game, today," remarked Ted's father, "Remember that I'm watching you, and make my heart proud."

The remark apparently escaped the notice of the other players, and the game started.

Never had Berkley fans witnessed such a battle. Back and forth surged the husky warriors. Not an inch was gained by either side until the last ounce of opposition was overcome. Super-human attacks carried the ball to the five yard line of both teams during the first quarter it did not be the teams during the first quarter it did with both sides scoreless.

The second quarter opened with a dashing aerial attack from Concordia that a read the bull over the hactor attachdown octors the Cold and Blue could are an ize a defense. The points were dear to Concordia, and jointly costly to the Gold and Blue, for, in attempting to stop the fleeting Hammerstead, Berkley's regular end suffered a dislocated shoulder. Miller, "second string end", was substituted, Concordia failed to kick goal. Score, 6-0.

The third quarter was a repetition of the first. The ball ser-sawed from one side to the other, with a clienter migranical tensions for downs. The fourth quarter opened as had the second out this time it was the Good and Blue team that opened with a smashing attack that would first downs within two minutes. The fattle continued, and the range remeditie end. Along forward pass was stretted to Miller, who heaped not the air to cat hit. An opponent tacked his while in rand and throwing

"Ted, it's up to you", said the coach, turning to his third string end. "There's ore than you in do kick k k. was, if you of the clance order ke it wood for old Berkley."

The chance to make good arrived. Ted rushed onto the field with the memory efficient therewords limited in territors. He would care the teach old dad proud of him, he swore. There was little time for reflection as he took his position in the line, and play was resumed. The minutes ticked swiftly by, and the end came nearer.

"31—41—56—88—Hike!" shrilled the quarterback.

Ted's nerves were electrified. That signal was his, and he prepared to receive . I see I'm a Hamme sour a reset or and he so, she is way down the fold to the ten yard line.

Ted turned his head quickly and glanced hurriedly at his father.

"That's Dr. Van Levan," said one of the fellows carrying him, "The father of the society idol. He called you Leo. Do you know him?"

Ted did not answer but someone next to the doctor said, "I think you're mistaken. That's Theodore Thorton, the star athlete."

"Theodore Thorton nothing," said the doctor, "That's Leo Van Levan, my son! Leo!" he said again, "my son."

Pushing his way through the crowd, he rushed to Ted.

"Well, Dad, how'd you like the game?" asked Ted.

"Dad!" exclaimed "Red".

"Yes", said Ted, "I am Leo Van Levan. I'm sorry you fellows found out. Ted Thorton's life has been so good."

"I'm proud of you, my boy," said the doctor.

That evening Leo said to his father, "Well, Dad, I've made my own name. I suspect I'd better retire, I'm a working man now."

"B-but," stammered the doctor.

"Yes, Dad, a little work doesn't hurt any society idol. Ha! Won't the folks at home be surprised when they find out? Good night." "A Van Leven, all it It" said the doctor as he soft ed down to read the paper.

Sindy M Dorald and Douglas Grah, in were partners in the Simshine Gold Mine. They had come to Cleary ew, a little in ning town in the foothills of Idaho, some three years before. Day after day and month after month they toiled steadily or, never reing to the town layers at right to engage in the wild or ries that took place.

As handsome as short collar "ads" and well set up in clemby cut, imuserdar bodies, the two cal make some of those affectes of old look like immates of a sant farman. Sandy and Dong were two of the most respected cutzens of Charview.

Straight to Linda's he went. He knocked on the door, and Linda, all smiles and congratulations on his recovery, greeted him. So she was going to soft-soap him, eh, and then let him down easy? Well, not before he gave her a piece of his mind. "I suppose that you and Sandy have been getting along nicely since I have been sick", he exploded. "Why-why what do you mean?" asked the bewildered Linda. "Hasn't Sandy been coming here every night and haven't you promised to be his wife?" stammered Doug. "Goodness no!" exclaimed Linda. "I haven't seen Sandy since the day you were hurt and besides I wouldn't accept him because, well-you know Dong I-" "Good old Sandy," murmured Doug. "It was you who made the sacrifice".

The Student's Dream

The student slept, forgetful of lessons;
An Algebra, face downward on a table lay;
He soon forgot the long study sessions;
He scorned his books, to his teachers dismay.

Suddenly he stirred, a phantom appeared
A tall figure with long triumphal train,
"Veni, vidi, vici," as to the bed he neared
He murmured in a long low strain.

This shade was followed by another,
Shakespeare in hallow voice cried,
"He mocks my works, where is his mother?"
But the boy stirred not, and the poet sighed.

Little algebra elves with poppy eyes
Danced into the room with mischief bent.
They tickled his chin, the boy uttered sighs.
The elves perched on the bed, content.

A Proposition stalked to the low bedside
With a frown he looked on the vision hazy,
"I am here to prove," in harsh voice he cried,
"That this boy is worthless and lazy."

Chemistry equations with noiseless tread
Climbed over the pillow and murmured low,
"You remember that Iesson, here you are abed."
They all climbed to his chest and sat in a row.

Each ghost began to grumble and complain,
Of his neglect and cruelty.
Some talked in a low faint strain,
Some cried out the lad's duty.

The boy stirred and all ghosts fled,
He sat up and blinked his eyes,
And murmured, "I thought those folks were dead,
That is certainly some surprise."

The High School Library

Many, many years ago our high school library had a very modest beginning of ad cit two languaged volumes, only to be totally de troved by the destrictions for which putrially destroyed the old by a school hand not like the world verticens of the looks. As a result a library adequate to the modes of the night school at that time was placed at an accove at the rowded asserbly teem of the oil Central school, torn down a few years ago to make way for our new structure. Lack of space tested in the hooks being placed on the sledges of the public abrary as soon as it was organized, where at that time they could be used more conveniently.

Several years ago the med for a bitrary access to to but school students at all hours of the day, was bartly telt. I we handred dellars to the prichase or books was raised by a library committee, with Miss Booz as chairman. The greatest need again was a suitable room in which to house it. The still crowded conditions made a separate library room practically impossible.

MANUAL ARTS

This is one of the most important departments in school, although not so prominent as many others. Perhaps no other department does more to develop the practical side of a boy's education. The boys are doing excellent work in the manual training room. They are enabled to make many things at a low cost which, without the aid of the school they could not do. This department lends opportunity to show efficiency that might not otherwise be discovered. Another section of this department is that of sheet metal. This part of the work is not even so well known as the manual training but the members of this class are doing wonderful work. The sheet metal work comes in the third year of the Manual Arts Course.

ART DEPARTMENT

The Art Department has accomplished a great deal this year, under the efficient direction of Miss Wilson. The first of the year talks on color combinations and harmonies were given which proved to be very beneficial to the students. The art trasses have been exceptionally large trasses and large stown to wonted interest in their work. This is very beneficial to the students as it develops an artistic sense and affords greater opportunity for pleasure.

Today oratory is one of the leading courses of study in both college and high school. Besides being a beneficial course in itself, it is of great value when used in connection with the student's other classes. A student of oratory stands out from the rest of the class by the manner in which he discusses the topic. Business men, of today, have found that oratory is beneficial to them in their work. A six weeks' course in oratory is offered in connection with Public Speaking. Miss Julia Deere is the instructor.

Debate is another course which is very essential to all students. Debate is the most complicated form of Public Speaking. Although the speaker has his speech prepared, he is sometimes forced to alter it so as to meet the point brought out by the opposition. A successful debater has to depend largely upon his own initiative. The questions for debate are usually questions that interest the public, as a whole, and help the public to get a better knowledge of the question. Mr. Hopper has charge of the debate class.

Along with oratory and debate comes the State Discussion. This branch of Public Speaking and trescribles that of oratory and delice. The subject of State Discussion is, "A plan for World Peace

Mr. Rice spoke on "The New Monroe De trace." Wiss Harding won third place in the girls contest while Mr. Rice failed to get a place in the boys' contest.

The school should compliment these two people and also Miss Deere for their efforts in trying to gain honor for the school.

This year the Central Indiana Oratrical Contest will be held in Noblesville. The Crawfordsville H 26 School will be represented by Rebecca Whittington and George Beatty. Since these two people have worked with a great deal of zeal we expect good results.

Crawfordsville should be a strong contender for the Triangular Debate next year, as only two men are lest from this year's teams. Widener and Warbritton will graduate this year.

Mr. Hopper should be complimented for his untiring efforts in conching the debate teams. Starting with a moup of mexperioned men, he developed them into a debating team which nearly succeeded in taking the Triangular Debate.

THE NATIONAL ORATORICAL CONTEST

The purpose of the National Oratorical Contest is to find the best high school orator in the United States and to create an interest in the Constitution.

The contest is conducted in each district by a leading newspaper. In this district the Indianapolis News acts as sponsor.

Aside from winning the honor there are cash prizes amounting to several thousand dell as. The local D. V.R. also gove prizes to the warmes in the local high school.

The winner of the local contest was Miss Lucile Summers. Bernard Suverkrup won second place. Miss Summers' subject was: "Hamilton and the Constitution."

The District Contest was held in Crawfordsville and again Lucile Summers proved lease temperature was alleted by the and estate process to a district in the Sectional Contest to be held here.

The Sectional Contest held here April 9th proved a success from the standpoint of the orations and attendance. The high schools that had representatives supported their contestants by sending large delegations.

The sextette from the Crawfordsville Glee Club furnished the opening number for the program, Marian Stanford, Dorothy Hack and Mildred Lines rendered individual numbers while the judges were deciding the winners of the contest.

The following are the students who took part in the contest: Bertha Joseph, Lorestown Denald Woodward David. Denotes Asia Bandarde. Lest are William Policy and Lorde Scripers Crawfordsville.

The Simshine Society, the largest and oldest organization in the High School, was organized in 1900 by Miss War herate Dior. The purpose of Dissionatty is to spread cheer and sunshine to the less fortunate of our city.

The society is not only well known in our own city and county but all over the state. Many high schools over the state have organized societies using ours as an example.

Four years ago the Crawfordsynde Johanal established the Johanal-Sanshare Fund and donated fifty dohors. This has been an armed custom and the residents of the city, county, and state have central intell freely each year. This morey is used at Christmas time to fill baskets for the needy.

The Sunshme garls also hold 'on I says and I ist year sold Sambing Cock Books to raise funds for the furthering of their work.

An added feature this year was the Cheer Boxes which were filled with candy and nuts and were sent to shut-ins and elderly people over the city.

Much of the success of the society this year is largely due to the unceasing efforts of Miss Blair, the society sponsor, and our president, Jane Jones.

Last year the State Sunshine Convention was held in this city. Over one hundred fifty girls representing Sunshine Societies from twenty-seven high schools convened here for this second annual affair, on Friday morning, April 27, 1923.

The delegates were net at the trains by a transport from a rimatic and taken to the high school braiding to reaster and then were taken to the lemans of the gurls of the local society.

The largest single delegation came from LaFavette, which numbered nearly seventy-five.

The opening session was head in the architection of 2 p. in Tredix. A sloat basiness nector, was need, after which a group perture was taken of the local society, and all visitors.

The grasts were then taken to the Mission Trinole when they toraid a very attractive tea room awaiting them. A descriptful process of missional tradings was given, and punch and waters were served. Also Willie Williams had also of the entertainment.

One of the features of the convertion was the "Precent of Staishine" written and directed by the late Miss Amic Willson and presented by one mended rifty members of the local society. It was given at Sip. n., I roday, with Tancilores represente githe "Spirit of Sunshine."

A breakfast was served find a morning at the Commanty House for the faculty advisors and the women teachers of both Junior and Senior High Schools.

At 12 o'clock Friday, luncheon was served by the Advanced Cooking Class, to the delegates.

At the business session Friday morning at the Christian church the following State officers were elected:

President Janes Jones, Crawfordsville Vice President Wary Cox, Franklin Secretary Mary H. Gierhart, Huntington Treasurer Josephine Overton, Martinsville

With love in my heart forgetting self and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life, helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making the community in which I live a safer and more beautiful place for little children. Thus will my life become rich and complete.

MEMORIES OF 101

Among the beautiful pictures That hang on Memory's wall. Is one of a large old room, That seemeth hest of all. Not for its lustrous decorations, Dark from the soot of time: But for those inspirations, That have gone to every clime. Not for the colored floors bar-That echoed the songs from Bu -Not for the time-worn, creaky chair And flowers amid some ferns. But for associations happiest, And for art., and the sweet, calm culture, "101" seemeth to me the best.

The Classical Club

The Classical Club is one of the oldest clubs in the school. It may justly be proud of its accomplishments. The purpose of the club is to increase the interest in the Latin work and to give a broader knowledge of Roman life and customs.

Plans are being formulated for the re-organization of the club under the name of the Roman Republic. The Republic is to be situated upon seven hills such as, Rooms 103, 211, 107, the auditorium, etc. The members must each adopt a Latin name and will be divided according to their classes into the ranks of the Plebs. Knights and Senators. The consul will take the place of the president and other Roman officers will hold their respective places. The Pontifex Maximus, the highest officers will adopt storat a same tree. The purpose of this data is to revive the interest of the students in the classics.

The club is sponsored by Miss Knox, Miss Wharton and Miss Millis.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association was organized several years and for boys. The purpose of this organization was to further the feeling of our high school spirit among the boys of our High School

A few years 120 a Girls' Athletic Association was organized among the girls for the same purpose as the beys'. It, too has been successful in torrice years. This year, another mass of everts a change has taken place. The Athletic Associations have been read and in to similar the boys and in some enabled to work to after to a greater advantage. By this upon they are able to do not yell as that the separate associations could not attempt.

One meeting was held in the auditorium with the entire student body present. The meeting was presided over by the president, Marshal Cummings. Rev. Carpenter gave a talk on "Dominoes." After this meeting most of the students were convinced that this was the best way to have the organization.

Agricultural Club

Vocational Agriculture consists of Classroom, Laboratory, Field and Home Project work. It is designed primarily for the country boy. It prepares for more efficient farming, but also qualifies for college entrance. The work is infinite in its possibilities and based upon the transfer that charation consists of theory plus application. Two very interesting phases of the course are the community contact and competitive contests, in which members of the class engage.

This year, for the first time, an Agriculture Club has been formed. Its purpose is to give increased interest in current affairs relating to the farm, to strengthen the relation between the cross and the bonn and to develop leaderst procuring than the class. The members of the club agree most heartily with Emerson, who said, "The first farmer was the first man, and all his to reach man typests on use and possession of land.

JUNIOR RECEPTION

The Masonic Temple was the scene of the Junior Reception, given in honor of the Seniors. The Junior class colors, purple and lavender prevailed in the decorations. The ball room and reception halls were artistically decorated with baskets of ferres and purple and white blace. After the guests arrived, they were invited to the little Theater where a caver three act play. 'Her Oleves', was given. The play proved to be a striking feature of the evening and nach credit should be given to Miss McCultou-te for her effective supervision. After the play the guests left the theater to speed the remainder of the evening in dancing. Masacwastianished by the Detchon Orchestra.

SENIOR RECEPTION

The annual Senior Reception was given at the Masonic Temple, May 21, 1923 by the class of '23 for friends and relatives. When the guests entered the door, they felt as if they were intruders and had frighte ied away a million little maidens who had come to dance upon the green and plack posics because everywhere there were baskets in ide of large surbats fieled with spring flowers. He main feature of the evering was a misscal program which consisted of a musical read in given, by Lavorar Robins, a vocal onet, by Rody Cin, ams and Heten Robin and a vocal scrop by Katherine Dorsey. Whise was harmshed by Grey's Orchestric, from Danville, Dancing and a social time was enjoyed.

FACULTY PARTY

One of the big est social events of the year for the faculty took place in the fall at Milligan Park, when they gave a party in honor of Superinter dent and Mrs. Underwood and Principal and Mrs. Deetz—Members of the Faculty and their families were invited to spend a social time together. Welliers, coffee, and don, linuts were served to the guests. After the tood supply was exhausted, the men participated in playing horseshoe, in which Mr. Deetz and Mr. Underwood won each time. After they had spent a delightful time, they returned to take up their various tasks.

SENIOR KID PARTY

The nambers of the Senior class, after so much be ring, persuaded their mothers to let them the over to the High Shood Auditorium to take part in what is known as the "Kid Party". There were title girls in garcham paratories and Minanas' durling little covs with cirls. The youngsters were then divided into the following groups: Wabash, Purdue Botter, and DePanw. Groups Wabash and Piadue were able to entertain the restless group of children by missical numbers. Those in group Butler were able to being again, a scene or two tron, the bittle Red School house. Tast but not least interestant and exciting, was the "Mystery of Mysteries, given by group DePanw. All lattle people like gimes and they were not disappointed when Mr and Mrs. Deetz and Miss M Cullough suggested some gimes well known to the younger set. After a scorial time in the Auditorium, him how was served to each little present.

There is no need to introduce this gentleman to the student body, but for the benefit of those in foreign countries who read this book, we will explain that he is "Brandy" Freeman, our basketball and football coach. "Brandy" expects to have another powerful basketball team next year and we think of no reason why he shouldn't.

The gentleman shown here is Homer Biddle, better known as "Heinie", "Heinie" is the financial genius of the athletic department of the high school. Athletics is as much a business venture as a picture show, and "He to takes care of the business end. The Football Team

George W. "Cad" Cadwallader held down the responsible position of captain of the team. In addition to that he was a full-back par excellence (whatever that means). "Cad" was badly injured in the game with Logansport and was out for the rest of the season. Another full-back who was not to be sneezed at-especially if he was headed your way—was Robert "Locques" McMurray. "Locques" also plexed both ck. The was reproduct to more with Brazil and was not die to tanish the come territise Mellin disherers parne half back as snock a wicked are when he pescal the hell. Bernard "Saver Saverking o curred the other half back position until his ankle was wrenched in the game with Manual. This was a great blow as "Suver's" speed was badly needed. His place was taken by Kenneth Crockett and Francis Morgan who took turns playing. Crockett had the honor of nakar for a for endewis in the game with Fromtews. In Thomas "Ten." Mathews fell the task of pilotin: the crew. Besides calling signals he helped out the backs by occasionally car ying the ball himself. Harry "Snook" Bowe and Bernard Kelly could relieve "Tom" when necessary. Roy "Cherry" Clark had charge of the ball. As a center on the offensive he was good. As defensive center he was better. He was noted for his swan-like dive over the opposing center when trying to tackle the man with the ball. The tackle positions were well taken care of by the two Liskies Robert "Boe" Loyd and William "Wee Wille" McCarrley. The some can ices adof the grand positions. Roy Harjer and Albert Satterlee performed ab y there. Where needed Merre Sparger and Charles "Snock" Miller could be cupy the guard positions. It addition Milier could go in at tackle and Mille could step. in at the end position. Kenneth "Warby" Warbritton played center at first but later developed into a trist class end. Theodore "Ted. Rosser held slown the other end of the team and despite his lack of size he kept the ballice perfectly even.

Football

Since 1910 C. H. S. has not been represented in the marty sport of football. Now ifter so many years absence, G. H. S. has returned to the ordinon. Of course, the "footbal sense" has to be developed, but figling spirit will cover a multiplide of defection of also defects. Cythe's lone victory, stands, out prominently against not defeats, but just as Adam was once the solic fundamon, coth, and has descended is now ever it, so will C. H. S. take a few ribs from opposit, feature and fashion many victories for her football teams.

At that, the record made by the team is impressive. Besides defeated. Thorn-town, it too lit Logansport, ore of the fastest teams in the state to a standstill and Logansport did not make the winning goal until the final quarter.

The Kokomo Game.

C. H. S. went to Kokomo for her first game. After four very exciting quarters. Kokomo was retianed the wholer by a score of 130 to 11 S did not act started properly intil twis too late, but they had the sit start on of knewlog that she completely outplayed Kokomo in the second half, although unable to score.

The Manual Game.

The first home game was with Manual of Indea apolis. Manual proved too strong for the boys and ran up a score of 25.

C. H. S. of diet be in to function properly and the act helt when they swept dewrithe teld and placed the ball of Manual's ore varidance. Then Robert "Loques" M. Murias, fore through center for a touchdown. The game ended 256. Savir krup, star halfback, was injured and could not play for the rest of the season.

The Logansport Game.

C. H. S. again left town for a game. This time Logansport was the recipient of her iffections. It this now the tear's playing was far superior to a vibring shown before. The first half was holly outested mather side being about secre. But rarks in the third quarter the Gold, and Baue swe, I down the field and George "Cal" (adwalfador carried the Lall across for a touchdown. Locansport care back and made a for I down, and in the feartr quarter made mether one. Although C. H. S. ten, he desperately, she was unable to score again and the game ended 12-6.

The Thorntown Game,

If the second none game of the season, C. H. S. walloped Inorptow) to the time of 10 b. The game was played in a heavy drizzae and the field was thick with intid. In this lame Cro. bett made four tenchdowns, Warbritton and Wathiws cart. one, and two more perits were collected when a Thorntown player was tackled belong his own goal line.

The Brazil Game.

Cadwallader who was hurt in the Logansport same was mable to play in other of the last two genes. McMurris tred to peak with a strained kneed int lead to be taken of the field. This so weakened the team that Brazil it ill about as she pleased.

After four quarters of horror, Brazil was returned the winner by a scoe of 59-0

Harry "Snook" Bowe—Captain and Floor Guard. The person who first uttered the time-honored saw, "Small, but mighty" must have had Harry in mind. He always plays a fast, snappy game and was never disheartened by the size of the opponent's score. Harry is one of the best guards C. H. S. has had and we are very sorry to state that he graduates this pring

Karl "Nobby" Dickerson—Forward. "Nobby" played the same smooth, even game throughout the season. He always made his quota of baskets and sometimes got so "hot" he couldn't miss if he tried. The best news we've had for some time is that "Nobby" will be back again next year to help win the State Championship.

Robert "Dinner" Dinwiddle—Center. "Dinner" usually managed to get the jump on the other fellow. He is a demon on side shots and can also fill his quota from the front. He has had bad luck this year, injuring his ankles on several different occasions. This kept him from the regional. This is "Dinner's" last year but he will be able to look back on an honorable and enviable record in basket-ball

Marshall "Fat" Cummings-Back Guard, "Fat" was one of the bulwarks of defense and could also make a basket now and then. He had bad luck towards the close of the season, as he became sick and was unable to finish the i' t" will also be lost to us through graduation.

Howard Harris-Center or Forward. Harris has the ability to step in and play either the center or forward perion. When Dinwiddle injured his ankle Harris was s tribed to center and played it well. Although small be is a "mean" jumper and can hold his own along that line. Harris also has played his last season with C. H. S.

Guy "Elsie" McDaniels-Forward, "Elsie" played a good steady game at forward. He is a good defensive as well as offensive player. His specialty is under-the-basket shots. Another forward will have to apply for his place as he will bid us a fond farewell this spring

GOOD NEWS

In two exciting contests, C. H. S. brought Hillsboro and Martinsville into camp on the short ends of the respective scores, 27-16, 31-28.

The Martinsville game was one of the best ever played on the local floor. The first half ended 15-15 but C. H. S. took the lead in the second half. The issue was in doubt until the gun was fired.

NOT SO GOOD

Bad luck seemed to clog our footsteps—Greencastle came over and so far forgot herself as to tuck the bacon under her arm and stalk off, leaving C. H. S. gazing at the diminitive end of a 14-22 score.

The next evening. Frankfort, acting as hostess, lost her manners and forced G. H. S. to swallow a 29-31 pill. Rather bitter, too.

HOW'S THIS

C. H. S. came back in gent techter is by over Albeat Barbbids, Waves town and beforein a succession. The ny botton with these victories under their belts, the "Midgets" went to Martinsville to duplicate their first game. But a shight latch occurred. Martin syde gathered ac pearls, while C. H. S. scenical to have trouble finding the baskets and only gathered a measly 15.

Tough luck. Very much so.

HALF AND HALF

C. H. S. opened the New Year with a 46-22 victory over Thorntown, which is rated as a fast tean. But why Obl. Why should Bumbrid a spall the proverhal bears by dropping C. H. S. u. a. el. Hy , with The orly explaintion series to be that the "Walvets" are temperanental. That same evening the Bandudge seconds dropped the C. H. S. seconds.

Garfield, which is rated as a strong team, had a little game with C. H. S., but simply wasn't mut. C. H. S. rost did as they pleased. At the end of the gime the score stood 56-16. Not such a bad evenings work, at that.

FOUR IN A ROW

Jan. 12, C. H. S. met her old rivals on our floor and completely demolished them to the time of 39.18. This is the third straight defeat Lebinon has side cred at our hards. After rest me a bit the "Malests" amoled over to Broad apple and after an extremely hard fought battle defeated them 3121. One old triend befferson of Lalayette was the next victim. The fast half lett had everything her way and walloped the boys 15 B. but after getting a dose of "Brandy" in the rost period they came back strong and slaup tered off leff 41.27. Incendive later Incentows, fell before the M deets on her own floor. After a fairly easy pattle C. H. S. was returned the winner, 45-28.

TWO AND TWO

IL STATHENIAM! MINING TO STATE TO

Feb. 9, Bloomington came to C. H. S. for a friendly bout, the first the two schools have had to some time. After whom given an error that the scheme drepped this came to Bloomington. The same was made tester than the scheme more ates. After forty minutes of terrific play the game ended in Bloomington's favor, 42-27.

On the 15th the boys went over to Lebanon accompanied by the clown band and two calloads of roctors. Naturally, so much good take now we bear I to leave a collection the team. The boys soon ran up a lean score but two members of the tried all ended, three lucky shots brought Lebanon up to within two points of C. H. S. and the harmonic of the H. S. 12 16. The second half saw the boys draw sowly away and the game ended 31-26.

In a fast and furious game on the home floor, C. H. S. lost to Brownsburg by a score of 29-31 score. C. H. S. had Brownsburg on the short end of a 27-23 score a few mantes of the circle of the circle that the specific reflect the library large but a their total to 31 while C. H. S. could only bring hers to 29. The presectional season we favor not wound up by the "Midnets we competite total for Scottic could team was in good working order and easily defeated Shortridge 36-29.

THE SECTIONAL GAMES

Every year there is held an elimination contest to decide the state champion high sencel I skettall tem. As the maders will remember, C. H. S. mached the semi-finals last year, going down to defeat before Muncie after previously winning from Bedford the same day. This year "Fat" Cummings was unable to play in the sectional and George Cadwallader took his place. Then Dinwiddie was injured in the game with Bowers and could not finish the contest. Peacock, the player from ladora, savaction indiplayed a rice game. He will be with resective at a rid will radoubtedly get a berth with the regulars. Crawfordsville's first game was with Waveland, where our old friend Coach Blacker resides. This was the fastest of the I rid visitings. Was claud 0 realized to spill the dopollout word inalized downed 20 to Satur by more is the boys took a little exclose to aid the registion and downed New Market 2022. The Madrets took it casy and at no time used New Market threaten to force ahead. In the semi-finals, C. H. S. met Bowers and defeated her 2) B. The came was not as soft as the score and lates. After some snappy work the Bowers outfit led at the half 13-8. In a remarkable comeback C. H. S. held Bowers score, ess in the second field and amexical beponds for Leiself. Waynetown and Crawfordsville perferned in the finals. This game was featured by the reversal of CH S to her old term and at no time did Waynetown fresten to too the lead

THE REGIONAL

One week later, the Midgets journeyed to Lafayette to play in the regional. Dimindule's in used at kie kept him out and "Pete" Guirett was taken along and was used at the same with Ottertein. The first and only name was with Otterbein. The boys could not seem to not none and did not display the torm shown in the section did not last half ended in tayor of Otterbein. 9 to Maray were expecting the boys to use the old "come back" that made them noted at the state ricet last you had then bopes were not realized as Otterbein won 18-12. The Athenian wishes, in the name of the school, to extend our grat dations to "Brandy" and our "boys" for the fine spiral which kept them going even when defeat stared them in the face.

Track Relay Team

Last year "Dinner" had four men who went to the State; this year he expects more. C. H. S. has a powerful team this year and should have a still more powerful one next year. On March 1, "Dinner" sent a relay team to the Illinois University meet. This team captured fifth place out of thirteen entries. As this book goes to press before we can write up the track meets we can only ear the records from the first meet, in which C. H. S. won the championship of Montgomery County, Craw fordsville, Wingate, Darlington, and New Richmond were entered in this meet

COACH "DIXIE" CHAPMAN

Much credit is due to "Dix'e" who so faithfully worked to develop a team that was capable of defending the hears of C. II. S. and only through her untiring effort have we be a able to accomplish it. The one thing she always wished to impress on the minds of her team was that good sportsmanship pays at all times. Her ability to coach is proved by the record of her team which lost only one game this season. Her sweet and cheerful disposition wen her many admirers proved us

FOREWORD

Crawfordsville High School can be proud to claim a Girl's Basketball team which has met defeat only once this season. This is the record made by our girls. The game lost was by two points. This is the first time in the history of girls basketball in our school that a record such as this has been made.

THE GAMES PLAYED

November 16, 1923 C'ville vs. Mace (19-6)

The girls baseketball team of C. H. S. opened its 1923 season with a game against Mace, played on the C. H. S. floor. It was our first encounter with this post 11 quarter support. The same was a splended one from every stand point twis 10 the twis is well as athletic skill. Thought the Mice guils played under including the quarter shots of the forwards brought the final score to the satisfactory margin of 19-6.

December 7, 1923

C'ville vs. Veedersburg (there) 13-8

The team journeyed to Veedersburg to play their girls' team. Although the materia was not so struct as that in the Mare pame, the victory was not so hard to win. Due to the close grand or of both teams, the clever passes were intercepted. But tracs for the basket were trequent. The final same stood 13 o making a third victory over Ver bestuary for our team. The Cylle team was never headed in this game.

C'ville vs. Mace (at the armory) 21-18.

Crawfordsville and Mace clashed for the second time, with claws and fangs uncovered. Both teams were set to win, but luckily the victory fell to us. The game was one of the best of the season, the score at the half being ten all. Civille's famous passing was above par. Shots were lucky and guards were alert. Two substitutions were made in the game. Stafford at forward, and B. Coffel, it grand It was a first lard for It age throughout. The same ended 21 is making the second victory for our team over Mace this season.

C'VILLE VS. VEEDERSBURG (HERE)

On December 21 our team again clashed with Veedersburg. The game proved interesting, due to the fact that it was not so slow and that both team's shots were lucky.

The passes were intercepted, and frequent plays to the basket were made. Hend rix's overhead shots raised the points for her team.

C'VILLE VS. PERRYSVILLE (HERE)

On January 18 the Perrysville girls journeyed here to try the strength of their team against that of ours.

The game was not fast and lacked interest, because the scoring was so one sided. The half ended 48-0 in favor of C. H. S.

GARFIELD GAME

One of the best games of the season was played on Saturday night of February 9, when the Midget Sisters clashed against the Garfield sextette. The game started slowly and after a few minutes of play Garfield caged a field goal. But this did not last long because Crawfordsville soon rallied and scored several field goals by which they secured the lead. After once getting started there was no stopping for the Midget 8 ste's and they led throughout the large. The score at the half stood with Crawfordsville leading four points.

WILEY GAME

The final game of the Girls' season was a disappointing one, when they journeyed In Terre Halde to play Wiley. The disappointment was especially nationally because it was the or y deteat of this year. The first hith diactorbe facilities that the whordsy lie could not get together, ended 14-9.

In the second half Crawfordsville cut down this lead and at one time was within a point of tying the score. Shanklin was fitting the goal with market accuracy, while B. Coffe, carrie through with two. Near the cose of the game, newever, Barnett, amo through with a goat from under the basket, while Terr added another and Witev was returned the victory.

Shanklin and Coffel were the outstanding players for Crawfordsville, while Barnett, Torr and Reyeal were pronought in the work of the Wiley team,

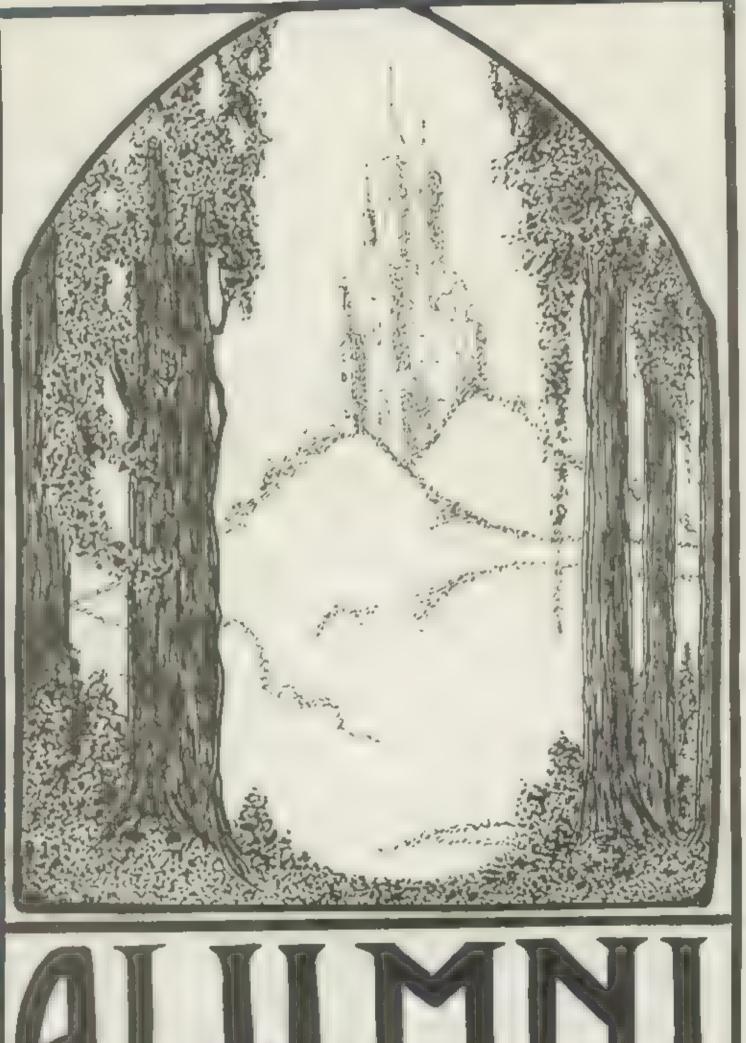

THE SECOND TEAM

Hardly enough credit can be given to this year's second team which has made it possible to such hard work to help the first team win its games. No first team could excess to very sted, had it not been for the second team. Although they set very little credit for their work, they really showed themselves to be good sports. They did what was asked of them and never complained. The second team will be called upon text as a to the text team as several of the text team players are lost by graduation. So again I say here's to the second team, which is only a small part of what they deserve.

A Tribute

To those who are left of the Class of '86, one picture of the old school days stands out most vividly. It is that of a young girl, the youngest of her class, who, there he compute the stands site of the deskin the desired stool root, her head, with it wonderful crown of bright hair bent low over stacks of books, while her gay and carefree school mates linger outside, waiting for the very last tap of the last hell before returning reluctantly to lessons. Can the result of such a life, lived consistently to the end, be set at naught?

When we think of Anna Willson these lines of Robert Browning come ever to our minds.

"Therefore, to whom turn I but to thee, the ineffable name? Builder and maker, thou, of houses not made with hands! What, have fear of change from thee who art ever the same? Doubt that thy power can fill the heart that thy power expands? There shall never be one lost good! What was shall live as before! The evil is null, is naught, is silence implying sound; What was good shall be good, with, for evil, so much good more: On the earth the broken arcs; in the heaven a perfect round."

1899—There are a number in our class of whom we can well be proud. There is Samuel Record, Professor of Forestiv. Katherine Brown, a prominent figure whose his of work as not appreciated and Hizabett Warra who has done that is worth while ever since she left C. H. S. -Frances Chamberlin-McClamrock.

1901—My lot has been cast so far from C. H. S. that I've not kept in touch with my class as I should like to have done. My memory of school days and classmates is a pleasant one, and I wish that they might join in a hand clasp—

"Out where the days are a little longer, Out where the hand clasp's a little stronger. Out where the West begins."

Charles C. Wheat, Yakima, Washington.

1902—The class of 1902 dating back to the days of small classes and few boys in attendance is ancient history now. I think eighteen was the final count of those who gained the coveted diploma, and to this class you must look when you think of the first High School Annual. It looks like a mere babe in arms compared to the full grown annual of the present day.

As I call to mind the members, I pause to set aside a page in memory of Mary D. Foster, the youngest member of the class. She will always hold a treasured spot in our memory. To the best of my knowledge the rest are living, half the number has wandered from the fold of Crawfordsville.

—Helen Sigmond.

1903—Our class has been greatly scattered once leaving our dear old Alma Mater. Members may be found in Indiana, Michigan, Arizona, California, South Dakota, Tennessee, Washington, and Iowa. But no matter where we roam I am sure the memory of our happy school days will accompany us.

-A Loyal Alumnus.

1905—The class of 1905 numbered 27 girls and 22 boys. The teachers always said that we were the smartest stude its they had ever had (?) and that we should have set the "world aftre",—but did we?

-Dawn S. Kennedy, New York City.

1906—I'm not going to tell you that the class of 1906 was the greatest class that was ever graduated from High School; that the High School has not been the same since that eventful June day when we up and pulled out with due ceremony and left it to struggle as best it could; or that had it not been for our influence, ideals and glorious record, it would have either shrivelled and wasted away.

1906 was a good class; we had a goodly number for that early day in the city's school history. All (advisedly) were of average intelligence, more or less the girls liked hay rides as well as the girls of any other class, and horseshoe was the accepted brand among the boys. We fought a memorable fight and left the High School a better place than we found it —educationally, morally, dramatically. But it's not for what we, jokingly, call our class historian to tell you all about it; he doesn't need bill boards to paint the picture. Look at the High School now.

-Howard O'Neal.

1907—The class of 1907 had a part in writing the brilliant history of C. H. S. Its regulars had a reduced by the screens a record which continued on the one that won the State Charpens and three records a translation to the baskets. It is the Wahash twice that season by scores of 23-21 and 24-21. That was the year Wahash reached the case of the baskets was best formula to the case of the baskets was best formula to the case of the baskets was a well as all of the middle west teams it played.

There were 21 girls and 23 boys in the class of 1907 and of that number 22 grade ted from all a solutions had a solution. The boys have engaged in various occupations. We have one in government service, three in the automobile business, one doctor, one mortgage banker, one in newspaper work, three merchants, six salesmen, one in dry goods business, one an athletic coach, one farmer, one advertiser, one lawyer, one chemist, and one other member is deceased, Warren Avres. Any member of this class will admit it is the best one ever graduated from the school.

Often I think of the dear old school, Just as it used to be. Often again I break the rule. And those days come back to me.

New faces now are the ones I see, As I visit the dear old place; But oddly they are the same to me. As memories interlace.

-A Member.

1909—All members of the class of 1999 are either famous, or school teachers. I would like to prove this by telling what each one has done since he left school, but the Alumni Editor will let me have but a limited amount of space. For that reason I must select a few, and let them represent the class.

During the war Uncle Sam needed a representative in Switzerland, and he sent a man, who, in high school days was a debater, a class president, and a school leader, and who later served in the diplomatic department of our government. This was Merle Cochran. For the past three years he has been Vice-Consul at Montreal, Canada, and has just recently been sent to Washington to finish his d plomatic education.

A girl, active in dramatics and organization in C. H. S., represented her class overseas in Y. W. C. A. camps during the war. After her return she did Social Welfare Work in this country, but is now, as Mrs. Dana Sanders, specializing in Household Arts in this city. We are represented in the M -- on field by Nettie Banks Duncan, who has recently returned to Canton, Chit a for a second period of five years.

Lena Wilson, Literary Editor of The Athenian in 1909, is now Secretary for the Russian Relief with headquarters in New York City. For the past two summers she has been sent abroad to observe conditions in Germany and Russia. Another, whose of Agriculture of Cornell University. He has made a special study of the diseases of beans and is known, both in this country and in Canada, as an authority on that subject. He is to go to France soon to do more work along that line.

There are others doing most worth-while work, but I must leave them for my next annual publication. Laboriously, but willingly submitted,

-Ursula Caster.

We were the biggest class that ever graduated from old C. H. S. (up to 1910). Undoubtedly our Senior year was the gayest of all, as we had one round of parties. And with our masculine majority of seven our parties were never in danger of be-

The only tragedy of our Senior year was the one we ourselves presented—Julius Coesar. It would hardly be litting for a member of the class to say what a theatrical triamph the provided as a fixed provided as a fixed provided by the class of 1910 was one of the special features of commencement week. It was the first trial quantity of the provided by a graduality cross to although the provided by a graduality cross to although the most only entertaining, but it proved the dramatic ability which was concealed in these amateurs." Probably, too, more talent was "concealed" than ever came out. Nevertheless, people were kind in thir comments and the members of the famous class of 1910 were happy in their achievement.

—Mary Burbridge Booz.

1911—The members of '11 arc either very timid or hate to boast about their own achievements. Nevertheless, we find in this class many successes in a variety of fields. For particulars see one of the members.

—Alumni Editor.

1912—The class of 1912 may well be proud of its war record. About 20 out of the 30 boys responded to the call of the colors, serving both at home and overseas.

Arthur Clements is now studying law at Columbia University. Joseph Myers is Exchange Editor of the Indianapolis News. John Miller is doing research work in the eastern part of the country. Marion Davidson has become a rising architect.

—Earl Huffman.

1913—The class of 1913—the lucky class! We were lucky in regard to the teachers who directed us; teachers such as Miss Blanche Woody. To Miss Woody, a splend die for indicate the second with the form Alexander Mark the land the form of the second members residing in Crawfordsville, the ambitions of the rest having carried them near and far. Here's to the ambition which is instilled in the breast of every C. H. S. graduate!

—Emily Schlemmer.

1914—Though the members of the class of fourteen are widely scattered, one member in China and others in various foreign countries. I take great pleasure as representative in wishing you, the class of nineteen hundred and twenty-four, success and happiness in all future attainments.

— Naomi E. Beatty.

1915—The class of fifteen is distinguished for its loyalty and devotion to C. H. S. During our four years in High School, we worked together harmoniously and willingly. Our class spirit is a potent factor in our lives today and we have the same ideals now that we had in High School. Each year we have a reunion and we look forward eagerly to the meeting with our classmates. It is our wish that the class of 1924 may enjoy such splendid memories of High School days.

-Marietta M. Fischer.

1916—Eight years since the class of 1916 left dear old C. H. S. Of the ninety-two who received diplomas that June day only twenty, according to my rough count, remain here in Crawfordsville. 1917—With the conviction that mere scholastic training, no matter how excellent, is not adequate preparation for the demands of life today, we appreciate having had a course in "common sense" conducted by our principal. Although we have had no sensational or outstanding figures, the class as a whole is prospering, and although scattered from coast to coast the spirit of C. H. S. still lingers in our hearts. We wish the Class of 1921 many happy and prosperous years.

-Donnis Saidla.

We fondly believed that it was a little better for the four years that we spent there, and most of us know that we could do a better job of it if we had the four years —Jasper Cragwall, New York City. to do over again.

1919—Class of 1924, accept our congratulations and hearty welcome. We hope that your trials may be few, and your success complete. —Julia A. Deere.

1920—Just a word to let you know that we, the Class of '20, are still on the map. Part of us have carned our eternal rest, part of us are attending college, part of us are teaching school, part of us are married, part of us are making big successes (?)—but all of us remember and love dear old C. H. S.

-Letha Birch.

1921—It has been just three years ago this spring since our class graduated from dear old C. H. S. Out of the one hundred and fifty-nine who entered our class, ninety-seven received their diplomas. The members of this class formed friendships in school which will never be broken, and we all cherish very dearly the memories of our High School days.

—Pauline McClelland.

1922—In the estimation of the Class of '22, the Class of '22 is, and always will be the best class which old C. H. S. has ever produced. We have little proof as yet to offer, but post we to our two when we are the biggest class which has ever graduated, we intend to be the best.

-Lucy Cragwall, DePauw U.

1923—We the Baby Class among the Alumni have not yet done much to make our mark in the world. Many of us are scattered in colleges. We are represented at Wah, so, he have DePark, he had a State Normal, the rest Western and Oxford Some of us have gone into the business world. Wherever we are we will always remember the dear old Gold and Blackat Istraction and publish he had all state to the appropriate by him standards it has given us.

Formerly Crist-Swartz Co. 211 E. Main St. Crawfordsville, - Indiana The man who is taking statistics for the new city directory approaches a mover's home in the suburb. At the doorway stands a stout, determinedlooking lady.

"Madam," he says, "my call is official. I am compiling statistics on the inhabitants in this part of our city. Might I ask what your name is?"

"Duffy-Honoria Duffy."

"And your husband's name?"

"Naturally, it's the same as me own -- Duffy."

"I mean his full name."

"Well, when he's full he thinks it's Jack Dempsey, but when I lay me hands on him it's still Duffy."

Wife: "Say do you know what it is -been out seeing another of your sick friends—holding his hand I suppose."

Husband: "No, I didn't, but if I hadda, I'd won the game."
